Meeting the Challenges of Parenting

A Learning Time to Strengthen the Family

Saturday, October 18th

8:00-11:30 AM

Faith United Methodist Church,
Greenville

How many times have you longed to have a little help over the rough spots in parenting? Do you need help understanding why children behave in certain ways, what consequences are appropriate for what ages and for what misbehavior, and how to make sense of your morning routine.

You are invited to attend a morning of learning that will help equip and encourage you as a parent, whether your child is an exploring toddler, budding elementary school student, struggling middle school student, or a high school student stretching for adulthood.

All sessions will be presented by therapists from The Center for Family Healing. These therapists have special training in families and relationships and approach parenting from a Christian perspective.

Cost is $20 per person or $30 per couple. While advanced registration is appreciated, you may also register and pay at the door. To register, call 757-5101 or e-mail revtom5@sbcglobal.net.
